KC SDK Developer OEM	KC Search Developer OEM™ Edition is the KC Search SDK that includes intelligent and precision search engine kernels, simple abstraction layer APIs, and small foot-print DLLs that can be integrated or adapted to your software products, e.g., Web applications in the cloud computing or client-server environment, SaaS, search engines, stand-alone products, or new products. iCommNet offers KC Search Developer OEM SDKs for OEM customers: KC Search DevSTD and DevPRO
KC Search Office	KC Search Office™ Edition allows for sharing searchable documents with pre-authorized staff or customers, making it the ideal solution for searching office documents such as project documents, status reports, and financial documents.
KC Engineering	You can use KC Engineering™ to search engineering documents simply and naturally, thus increasing productivity. Engineering professionals who are overwhelmed with current project documents often lack the visibility to consider the engineering knowledge accumulated in the past projects. With KC Engineering, you can simply point to the storage devices containing engineering documents and extract the precise knowledge you seek.
KC Research	KC Research™, powered by KC Natural Language Processor™ and Knowledge Modeling™ technologies, allows you to describe desired intelligence, or intelligence similar to certain linguistic elements (e.g., paragraphs, sentences, or phrases in plain English). KC Research then sequences and extracts knowledge from the linguistic description and uses the knowledge to locate the most relevant sentences from selected sources.
KC Hire	KC Hire™ is ideal for recruiting professionals who work in an office environment, HR staff who work in a corporate environment, or independent agents who work for staffing agencies. HR professionals can search jobs and resumes precisely and share the results with pre-authorized staff or customers over the network.
KC Medical	KC Medical™ is ideal for medical professionals searching medical records that may also be available to off-site physicians, e.g., multiple units within a hospital or multiple doctors' offices sharing common medical records over the corporate network behind a firewall.
KC Legal	KC Legal™ is ideal for legal professionals searching shared in-house legal documents that may also be accessed by pre-authorized staff or customers through a network.
KC Support	Support professionals can use KC Support™ to describe in plain English the problem a customer is experiencing. Then, KC Support searches and returns the best matching resolutions found in the knowledge base, thus reducing problem resolution time.
KC RSS	Search your RSS articles and Web pages precisely with KC RSS™. You can configure how RSS channels are scanned and how article XML/HTML/TXT files are created. KC RSS is ideal for searching social media, legal news, medical journals, jobs and resumes, and more.
